BEISEKER RESIDENTS SHOCKED AT RECENT PASSING OF MRS. J. SCHULTZ

BEISEKER. — Residents of Beiseker and district were shocked Sunday evening to hear of the sudden passing of Mrs. John Schultz of Carstairs.

Mrs. Schultz had been a resident of Beiseker for many years while her husband bought grain for the UGG here. After his death she moved to Carstairs, and has resided there since. She was a sister to Messrs. Emil and Dan Grams and Mrs. Earl Chandler Sr.

We are glad to report that Sheryl Krenzel is well enough to be home again, and her mother is also improving.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Simmons visited in Beiseker last Saturday. They were on their way home from holidaying in the western states.

Word received from Mr. and Mrs. Lount and Eva is that they had a very pleasant trip east, and have eaten lots of fruit and melons. Eva had visited her sister Norma, and it won't be long before they will be heading home.

The Beiseker Lions club theater committee wish to advise the residents of Beiseker and district that starting Nov. 1 just MGM films and general films exclusive will be shown.

Bill Tidy, Jr. was home for the weekend before leaving for his last year of university. He has been studying chemical engineering.

Mrs. C. Weisgerber accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Campbell to Edmonton last Sunday, when they were taking Allan up in time for the registration on Monday.

Sam Lee was a happy man last weekend when he set out for Calgary to meet his 13-year-old son who was arriving in Calgary by plane from China.

Miss Lenore Wright returned to Edmonton on Saturday after spending a short time at her home here. She was accompanied by her father, Mr. F. H. Wright who is spending a few days in Edmonton, and by her sister Claretta who will begin her studies at the university. Mr. Wright is on holidays. He has fared better with his time for holidays than Mr. Tidy, who had to take his during the strike.

Miss Lima Schmaltz has returned to High River, where she is employed by the Alberta Government Telephones after a three week's holiday.

Stewardess Irene Schmaltz of the TCA was home for a few days this week from Winnipeg and likes her work very much.

Stanley and Leonard Schmaltz were also home for the weekend. We understand that Leonard is doing some solo flying and expects to get his license this week for the first part of his training.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Schmaltz and family have moved to Clyde, Alberta with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Nugent. Mr. Schmaltz plans to rent a farm.

Mrs. Borgardt and Alex spent the weekend in Calgary, Clara spent last week at home while on holidays.

The farmers and grain buyers have appreciated this nice spell of weather, which has quickened the harvest season very much. However, the dust has been terrible on the highways. The yards around town will soon be ready for a clean-up after the wind has ridden the trees of all their colorful leaves.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Tierle Sr. are here from Ladner, B.C., and are visiting at their daughter and son-in-law's, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bosch.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Reynolds of Vancouver spent a few days last week visiting Mrs. Reynolds' mother, Mrs. Tennant and her brother Fr. Tennant. Mrs. Tennant left with them on Sunday to visit in Lethbridge.

Knight of Victoria, B.C., who were recently honored in Crossfield on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary, at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Doris Casey, four miles north of town. Mr. and Mrs. Knight were married in London, Eng., in 1900 and lived in Calgary from 1911 to 1938, until their retirement, when they moved to the coast.

ANNUAL CROSSFIELD INITIATION DAY DRAWS CAPACITY CROWD FOR FROLIC

CROSSFIELD. — The annual initiation party in the local high school, sponsored by the grade 12's, was, as usual a great success.

The Masonic hall was packed to capacity with parents and friends who wouldn't miss the celebration under any circumstances.

The riot commenced at 8:30 p.m. when the initiates appeared like specters from another planet, for how would fathers recognize his last years suit of long underwear, with its red diamond patch glaring from the seat, much less his own flesh and blood enveloped within its humorous shroud?

The treatment started; the initiates were subjected to imposed pranks both fast and rough; reddened faces, blackened faces, blind folds, cold alimy cut worms (chilled cooked macaroni to the spectators) were thrust down throats as well as backs; screaming, squirming.

The boys modelled foundation garments over their long and very much bedraggled underwear; the grinders and monkey silver collectors, which prank proved quite fruitful with such an appreciative audience. There were orange races, in which the participants' incisors were put to work; peanut pushing down the aisles—even gurgling sounds were emitted as the babies were satisfied with milk bottles. They were the best of sports, including their H.S. lady teacher, Dr. Sekius, and finally allowed to disperse and change their attire after receiving a real hand from the guests. Mr. Mumby, principal spoke fittingly for the occasion and pride and good fellowship for his pupils was felt in his well-chosen remarks. A nice lunch and dance closed the evening's festivities.

"MEN AT WORK" SCENES

TORONTO, Ont. — Those who only like work if they can watch it, have had a field day here since the huge subway construction has been creeping, block by block, up Yonge Street. One day last week 1,250 were counted busily "watching work" at the most northerly excavated section.

Teachers Reorganize At Beiseker

BEISEKER. — With a view to bigger and better meetings and to more personal contacts with neighboring teachers, the Beiseker and Kathryn sub-locals met at Beiseker school on Wednesday, Sept. 20. The idea was such a success that joint meetings are planned alternately at Beiseker and Kathryn as long as road and other conditions permit.

The next conclave will be held at Kathryn on Wednesday, Oct. 25, when it is expected more than 30 faithful pedagogues will be present to hear Mr. L. Workman, Kathryn's principal, give some views on the contentious County Act.

During the business part of the meeting the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mr. E. Knight; vice-president, Mr. L. Bunyan; secretary-treasurer, Miss A. Janz; councillor, Mr. J. F. Plante; press correspondent, Mr. T. Murray and lunch convener, Miss M. Weisgerber.

The next day she was ill and had symptoms which called for attention in these critical polio seasons.

Mr. Hank McDonald left Tuesday a.m. last by TCA for a trip to eastern Canada where he will spend a couple of weeks holiday and then drive back in a new car. He has disposed of his his machinery business and will soon be able to sit back and enjoy life.

Mrs. Ed Fraser was hostess to the afternoon bridge club on Wednesday, September 20. It was a pleasant afternoon and the lunch was perfect. Honors were shared by Mesdames Fraser and Casey; the latter will entertain next Wednesday.

Little Albin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bills, was a very happy little boy, when on Sunday last his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Laut gave a six-year birthday party in his honor. He had 10 small friends to help him dispose of the wonderful 'circus cake' and 'clown ice cream' as well as many other favorite dishes for which his grandma is noted. It was a very wonderful day and one to be remembered by them all.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Bennie Sr. has been taken back to the Holy Cross hospital for treatment. We trust she will be better soon.

The many friends of Mrs. Frank Mossop 1740 10 ave. west, Calgary will indeed be sorry to hear that she has been quite ill and until very recently has shown little improvement. We also hear that her daughter's family, the Devins, also formerly of Crossfield, are moving to 616A 1st ave. west. The Mossop family would be pleased to have any of their old Crossfield friends call on them.

Miss Barbara Lamb has started a large class in music.

The Rebekah Justice lodge no. 62 members are looking forward to an official visit from their vice president of the Alberta assembly on October 9 at their regular meeting.

Brian McLeod Oldford was christened on September 15 at Anderson officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Oldford came from Red Deer and the former is employed at Happy Hepners. The parents of both Mr. and Mrs. Oldford were present for the christening.

To be commended very highly is Trevor Kinghorn, who has accepted the responsibility of a boys' class in Sunday school in the Union church.

Vast New Project Opens in Alberta

Far back in the reaches of the Alberta Rockies, lies the new Spray Lake hydro-electric project undertaken by Calgary Power Ltd. The "lake", seen here, is the man-made reservoir which stretches for miles behind the 190-foot high earth dam, which is the key to the Spray valley, and this new hydro project. Nearby channel allows the carry-off of excess water during flood periods, never permitting water levels to rise above the full supply level at elevation of 5,580 feet.

New Hydro-Electric Project Undertaken in Alta. Rockies

By RAYMOND ARGYLE

Nestled in among the towering mountains of the Alberta Rockies, an immense new power project is about to go into operation. A few miles from Banff, in the formerly forbidden Spray Lakes country, Calgary Power Ltd. is bringing in a new hydro-electric project that will almost double the capacity of Alberta's biggest power company.

In a matter of weeks this $10,000,000 development will go to work, supplying Alberta's homes, factories and farms with electrical energy in twice the amount that has previously been available.

High among the Alberta Rockies, on the edge of the Continental Divide, just south of Banff, lies the beautiful valley of the Spray.

And it was as inaccessible as it is beautiful until Calgary Power spent $300,000 on roads in the valley to enable the project to be undertaken.

In November, 1948, the big job started, and since then about 250 men have been employed on the project.

High up the mountains, behind Canmore, an earth dam bridged a narrow chasm, and back of that the waters of the twin Spray Lakes were built up until it is 190 feet deep in points.

Four dams in all were erected, along with a five and one half mile canal, and the 1,236 foot Penstock Tunnel that will help guide the waters down to the lower dam.

Three power plants will generate electricity, with a total capacity of 88,600 horse power.

With water the key to the whole development, plans have been made so that hardly a drop will be wasted. Calgary Power incidentally, pays the government rental rights on the water.

Besides being utilized for power consumers, the Spray is used to accomplish other purposes of supplying water to cities and towns, to irrigate, to create scenic beauty and fishing pools, for industrial use, sewage disposal, and for navigation, where possible.

But as great as Spray is, Alberta is growing industrially by such leaps and bounds that Calgary Power is already planning other extensions in the very near future.

Probably early in October the big $10,000,000 project (financed by company shareholders), will go into operation.

It has been a big undertaking, but it is symbolic of a faith in Alberta, and it is a tribute to engineering genius, skill of workmanship, and determination of purpose.

Production Chief Native Albertan

T. D. Stanley, production superintendent at Calgary Power Ltd., has been closely associated with the Spray Hydro Power project. He is a westerner, born in High River, Alberta.

Tom earned his B.Sc. (Arts) at the University of Alberta (1929) and B.Sc. (Electrical Engineering) was obtained at McGill, (1933).

In April, 1935, Mr. Stanley began his career with Calgary Power Ltd.

His professional standing includes membership in the Engineering Institute of Canada, and in the Professional Engineers of Alberta.

Calgary Power Host To 37 Alta. Weekly Editors

Weekly editors from all over Alberta, 37 in number, were guests of Calgary Power Ltd. over the week-end of Sept. 16-17, when they toured the big new hydro project in the Spray Lakes country near Banff.

Some editors gathered in Calgary Saturday morning, were met by others at Canmore, jumping-off point for the Spray tour. The party was taken on an afternoon-long tour of the vast development and transported in buses that crept up narrow mountain roads.

They saw huge dams and power plants under actual construction, enjoyed an outstanding dinner at one of the construction camps, and in late afternoon went to Banff.

Following is a list of those who took in the tour:

Arthur H. Avery, Taber Times; Jos. S. Baril, Edmonton La Survivance; Alexander Barnhill, Wetaskiwin News Advertiser; T. M. Brinsmead, Bashaw Star; Chas. A. Clark, High River Times; L. In charge of the tour was W. E. Ross, public relations director for Calgary Power Ltd.

HELD DREAM OF SPRAY LAKES

For almost 30 years, G. A. Gaherty, president of Calgary Power Ltd., has had the vision of the development of Spray Lakes. Now this vision has become reality, and within a few weeks the power will go surging into the homes and factories of Alberta, from the greatest hydro project in the history of the Foothills province.

Mr. Gaherty is a prominent figure throughout the prairies, and in engineering circles all over the world. He is the recipient of many awards, the latest being the Julian C. Smith medal which he received in 1949 for "Achievement in the development of Canada."

Mr. Gaherty is also president of Farm Electric Services Ltd., which is bringing electric services to a greater number of farmers each year.

Perhaps more than any one man, G. A. Gaherty is responsible for the new industrial dawn which is creeping across the Alberta plains.

Spray Engineer Has Wide Experience

G. V. Eckenfelder, B.Sc. (Civil), R.P.E., M.E.I.C., resident engineer on the Calgary Power Ltd. Spray Hydro project, has a varied background fitting him well for the responsibility of overseeing the construction of Alberta's biggest and newest hydro-electric project. Like many of Calgary Power's employees he is a westerner. He was born at Trochu, Alberta.

On graduation from the University of Alberta (1933), his B.Sc. degree (Civil, Alberta), earned him a berth with the dominion government as an engineer.

He left government work to join Calgary Power in 1936 (remaining with the company until his enlistment in the Canadian Army in 1940).

Following his war service he rejoined Calgary Power Ltd. He was also in charge of the Snare River power project in Yukon Territory.

New Road Link With Alaska

Alberta government's decision to survey the proposed Whitecourt-Valleyview highway with a view to building a new and shorter link with the Alaska highway has brought applause from the residents of the Lac Ste. Anne district.

Businessmen and townfolk of Sangudo, Onoway, Cherhill, Mayerthorpe and other towns have long urged that such a road be built. This newspaper, too, has added its voice to the growing demand for the "Whitecourt Cut-off". Several weeks back a feature story pointed out the necessity of building the new road.

The Whitecourt-Valleyview road would shorten by about 100 miles the present route to Alaska. Instead of travelers having to drive far out of their way through Athabasca and High Prairie, the proposed new road would provide an almost straight route between Edmonton, Grande Prairie and Dawson Creek, in B.C.

The growing towns within the municipal district of Lac Ste. Anne will receive another boost to their continued progress if the road goes through. It is to be hoped the Alberta government loses no time on this project.

Alberta Traffic and Safety Guide

Rising toll of accidents, both on Alberta's highways and in the home, factories, and on the farm, is causing growing concern.

A new book, just off the press, entitled 'Alberta Traffic and Safety Guide,' is a publication well-worth reading.

Published through the efforts of the Safety Council, the Alberta Motor Association and the provincial government's travel bureau, the book is being distributed free throughout the province.

Arthur E. (Bud) Taylor, editor of the Safety Guide, has assembled a valuable amount of material, and we recommend it highly.

A copy of the booklet may be obtained by dropping a note to its editor, at 39 Garlepy block, Edmonton.

Farm Income In Alberta

Farm cash income in Canada from the sale of farm products amounted to $870,500,000 during the first six months of 1950. This is a decline of 18.6 per cent from the 1949 cash income of $1,069,400,000 during the same period. In addition a little over $13 million was received in the form of Prairie Farm Assistance payments.

The substantial decline in farm cash income this year is largely due to the fact that while $213.3 million was paid to prairie farmers in the form of participation and equalization payments during the first half of 1949, only $6.3 million was paid in the same period this year. This reduction in payments is reflected in the sharp drop in farm cash income in the prairie provinces. In Saskatchewan this drop in income amounted to nearly 50 per cent, while in Manitoba and Alberta it came to approximately 44 and 33 per cent respectively.

During the first six months of last year total farm cash income was as follows: Manitoba, $91,029,000. Saskatchewan $228,161,000, Alberta $210,249,000 and Canada $1,078,635,000.

A Newspaperman's Prayer

"Lord, let me keep a straight way in the path of honor; and a straight face in the presence of solemn asses; let me not trundle to the high, nor bulldoze the low; let me frolic with Jack and Joker, and win the game; lead me unto truth and beauty and tell me her name; keep me sane but not too sane; let me condemn no man because of his grammar and no woman on account of her morals; neither being responsible for either.

"Preserve my sense of humor and values and proportions. Let me be healthy while I live but not live too long. Which is about all for today, Lord. Amen."

Rural Electrification: How to Get it Sooner

By T. W. PUE

Two years ago the people of Alberta voted by a relatively narrow margin, to leave in the hands of the companies now running it, the electric power business.

Perhaps the power companies have a right to feel thankful about that. Any independent grocer, garage man or editor who likes the job of running his own affairs without government domination would be happy to know his business was to be left with him. The CCF, which supported the idea of socializing the power industry, felt somewhat bitter that the same rural vote which supported their ideas on that point, so overwhelmingly voted against them. Such are the fortunes of politics.

T. W. Pue

Farmers Want Electricity
I believe Alberta farmers turned thumbs down on a CCF government, when at the same time they voted for a Government Hydro commission, because it was rural electrification they wanted—not just socialism. The Alberta farmer would like to have electric lights in his home, and an electric washer, refrigerator, toaster, radios etc., just the same as town and city folks. Besides that, he has scores of real jobs to be done on the farm. Electric lights for barns, machine shops, sheds and hen houses. Electric milking machines, feed grinders and power tools all would be easier and cheaper to operate.

So, if under private enterprise he isn't getting electricity, and there is hope of getting it with government ownership, can you blame him for voting for socialism. No!—but let's examine the facts.

Cost Per Farm: $1,000.00

First, we have to recognize there are many limiting factors in the program to get electricity to the farms. Calgary Power Ltd. will soon open its new Spray Lakes power scheme which will solve for years to come the problem of sufficient power. There is plenty of power for every Alberta farm—the stickler being simply a matter of distribution. There are some farms so remote from established power lines that regardless of who sells the electricity, they won't get it for many years.

To get electric power to the farm costs an average of $1,000.00 where 40 or 50 farmers club together. If, as in Manitoba, a power commission handled the job, they would run lines into each farm for less than $100.00, where the actual cost is $1,000.00. Who pays the difference?

Not the farmer getting the power. His electric bill for 20 years probably wouldn't pay it. The money to pay for rural power extension comes out of the pockets of the urban and town users of electric energy.

So, though the individual farmer gets a $1,000.00 power hook-up for $100.00, it isn't fair to the city and town dweller who would have to pay higher rates. Clearly, this isn't possible when private companies are selling electric power, and farmers getting rural electrification are expected to pay their own installation charges.

If the people of Alberta feel that farmers should be aided in installing rural electrification—and I agree with those who do—then I believe it could be done in one of two ways.

(a) Farmers of any district, forming a co-operative association to build power lines, could borrow money from the government at a very low rate of interest, and repay the principal over a 30-year period. In this way, the rural power user would pay about $3.00 per month capital charges in addition to cost of power used, service charge and storm insurance.

(b) The government could grant a sum of money when power lines are built, to at least match dollar-for-dollar for extension of power service costs to individual farms.

In short, we want rural electrification as fast as men and materials can be provided. We can get it faster with government assistance which doesn't have to include government ownership.

The idea of subsidies for power line extension, leaving the sale and distribution of power in the hands of the private companies, should appeal to the present Alberta government which pretty generally is opposed to government ownership.

Scriptural Meditations

By Ainsley Blair

"Although there may be a tainted, corrupted atmosphere around us, we need not breathe its miasma, but may live in the pure air of Heaven. We may close every door to impure imaginings and unholy thoughts by lifting the soul into the presence of God through sincere prayer. Those whose hearts are open to receive the support and blessing of God will walk in a holier atmosphere than that of earth, and will have constant communion with Heaven."

Never Had No Mom?

Dear Sir,—Gosh, what a screwball, that guy who yelled in the Voice that women are ruining the country, that he hated all women, and that the world would be better off without them! How the heck does he think he got here—by a stork?

MARRIED AND HAPPY.

Hardisty.

Husband Drunken Maniac

Dear Sir,—Having read your article entitled "Drunkenness No Excuse," I would like to add my opinion, it most definitely is no excuse for anything. When men or women willfully destroy their sense of reality and an innocent person pays the price, why should they be given or shown any leniency?

We have a so-called Christian Government in Alberta. Why so lax in liquor laws? Governments quite often make various surveys covering this and that, why not make a house to house survey, to find out for themselves how many broken hearts and homes they will find, caused by liquor?

The leaders of our Government profess to believe in God and are not conscious of the evils of liquor or have no conscience as to the effects of liquor on what could be decent citizens of Alberta. Why remain in office?

Something should and must be done soon to protect those whose misfortune it is to be living with alcoholics or suffering from the stupidity of a drunk at large.

ONE WHO KNOWS.

Answers Woman Hater

Dear Sir,—I hope B.G.F. of Whitecourt, Alta., takes note of this.

I take it for granted that you have been married and had the experience with women, for you take them aside as your enemies now.

It is something like the war that is going on in the world today. You should realize that God created us to love everybody, not to hate any creature living here on earth.

Since you hate women, you must not like your mother very much because she is a woman too, which you must remember.

Women were made to take care of men. If it weren't for the women, you wouldn't be living in this world today. Please take this into consideration.

Thought For Today

Dear Sir,—It would be nice if some people had a little less love for money and a little more love for their fellow men.

(From Brooks Bulletin)

A southern Alberta editor, just about to go to press "pied" a couple of articles, one concerning an auction sale and the other a write-up of a wedding. He asked the office devil to get the two articles together, and here's how he did it:

"William Smith and Miss Lucy Anderson were disposed of at public auction at my barn one mile east of a beautiful cluster of roses, and two white calves, before a background of farm implements too numerous to mention in the presence of about 70 guests including two milkcows, 6 mules and a bob sled. Rev. Jackson tied the nuptial knot with 200 feet of hay rope, and the bridal couple left on one John Deere gang plow for an extended trip with terms to suit purchasers."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Canadians Should Always Practice Christian Living

Christian living is a worthy objective for all Canadians. But against the background of this modern age, with its stresses and strains, one question must first be answered: "What Is Christian Living?"

The scriptural background of Christian living is based on Jesus' teachings, a part of his Sermon on the Mount, on Paul's teachings in his letters to the believers at Philippi and at Thessalonians, and the practical teachings of James, the brother of our Lord.

A definition of Christian living presupposes that the person to be advised is already a believer in Christ. There could be no Christian living without first an acceptance of Christ. Any study or definition of Christian living therefore, immediately goes back to a study of Christ himself and his manner of life while he was here in the world.

In the first part of the Sermon on the Mount—in the Beatitudes—Jesus told his followers what the Christian traits should be. Then he turns to their influence. Using symbols which his listeners could easily understand, he compares his followers to salt and light.

Salt, although a very plentiful material in that part of the world, was and is a very necessary element. Jesus was comparing salt to the unconscious influence of Christians. As salt works silently and unseen to save food from spoiling and to make it more palatable to the taste, so should the Christian's influence silently work to make the home, church and community a better place in which to live.

Light represents the Christian's visible influence. The life of Christians should be such that everyone who comes into contact with him or her will be able to see "Christ living in me," as Paul once declared. Both salt and light work silently and so should the influence of people who love Jesus. Jesus taught partly by what he said, much more by what he did but most of all by what he was, the sinless Son of God.

Paul outlines the Christian philosophy of religion in his letter to the Philippian Christians. While he says much the same things as Jesus did, he does not say them quite so simply. Paul urged the believers at Philippi to live as citizens worthy of the heavenly kingdom, which to him, meant doing the will of God in the church as it is done in heaven.

He gave them the comfort of the assurance that the Living Christ lived with them every day.

FIRES FOG ALTA. TOWNS

Several persistent blazes throughout northern Alberta have caused a fog of smoke in several communities.

The peat-bog near Newbrook, which has been fought by about 200 men for the past week, has drowned Waskatenau, Thorhild and Boyle in a fog of smoke, according to reports from those points.

Forest fires farther north have wafted smoke into Lac la Biche.

The big peat-bog blaze which menaced Newbrook early last week is slowly dying down. Change of the wind, which was at first pushing the fire right into the town, saved Newbrook from almost certain disaster.

A woman was picked up for the fourth time trying to walk out of a New York department store with unpaid-for merchandise. The store detective asked her: "Why do you insist on doing your shoplifting in this store?" And the answer: "Where else could I find such bargains?"

LETTER TO LOUISA

Alberta Girl Writes Of Older Man Who Loves Her

Dear Louisa — I am 20 years of age, and I have a problem which you can perhaps help me solve.

For several months I went out with a man considerably older than myself. He is a fine man, fairly well-to-do, of the same faith. He says he loves me, and he can offer me everything I want.

I tried to make myself love him, and I admire and like him immensely, but I just can't love him.

On the other hand, I have fallen for another man I know. He's poor, and not of my faith, but he's more my age.

Is it possible that looks counts? You see, the older man is not very good looking. Or is it that I'm being childish where this matter is concerned?

BROWN EYES.

Answer: No matter how fine a man may be, there's no point in considering marriage if you do not actually love him. But make sure about this first.

As far as the younger man is concerned, do not try to rush into anything, as time will tell if you actually love him. Then will be time enough to decide if you actually want to marry him.

LOUISA.

Dear Louisa—I am a girl of 17 who does not know much about piano or organ playing, but I would like to take lessons this winter.

At our church there is a lovely organ but no one plays it. I have been told that mostly only Sisters play the church organ, and I am wondering if I could play it.

Also, could you tell me where I might take such lessons.

WONDERING.

Answer: Quite often you see advertisements in the daily papers where you can obtain such lessons. In regard to your playing the church organ, why not ask your priest about this?

LOUISA.

Dear Louisa—Ever since I can remember I have always had a special cousin, and now I am afraid I have fallen in love with him. I may sound silly, but that's the case. I've been told what can happen if cousins marry, but we love each other and want to get married.

MARGO.

Answer:

If you two happen to be first or second cousins, I would advise strongly against your present plans. True love cannot be selfish, and I am afraid that is what it would amount to, as to marry without thinking of your children would be very selfish. Moreover, every marriage must have children to make it complete. I am sorry to say this, but in my opinion, you should try and forget each other.

LOUISA.

Farm Leaders Protest Low Grading of Wheat

Alberta and Saskatchewan farm leaders will carry on their protest against low grading of frost-damaged wheat, a meeting of delegates from both provinces decided in Edmonton last week.

However, they decided against calling a grain delivery strike, saying that "the first point of attack should be through every other possible avenue."

The meeting was held between leaders of the Farmers' Union of Alberta and the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union.

"Petition of rights" for agriculture was prepared as a remedy for "some of the fundamental ills of agriculture in western Canada."

Details of the "petition of rights" were withheld pending their presentation to federal authorities.

Discussions also centred around what an official statement termed "the decline in the agricultural income and the lower initial price of wheat."

Regarding low grading of frost-damaged wheat, the meeting discussed a suggestion that a delivery strike be held, but decided against it at this time.

Grain officials said that if the strike had been ordered, farm granaries would have been filled to overflowing almost immediately.

This would have led to storage of grain on the ground, where it may have been damaged to a point of being unfit for sale.

Hired Man's Days Numbered?

Two South Edmonton district men have developed a unique farm-aid that would mean a boon to any farmer using the home-made drive enabling one-man operation of binder and tractor.

Morris Buffell and Hector Schelstraete developed the drive at a cost of about $10, with equipment that can be purchased just about anywhere.

All that's needed is an old steering wheel, some pipes and coupling.

Just think of the saving with no hired man's wages to pay!

PUBLISHING COSTS RISING BUT WEEKLIES MOST CAREFULLY READ

Although costs of publishing papers has risen greatly during the past year, to the point where one expert says "adjustments" in price scales are necessary for most papers to survive, a recent market survey indicates that weeklies are read "seven times" more carefully than the average daily paper.

The prominent figure who called for price increases as a necessity for survival was T. F. Mowle, a director of the Wall St. Journal, who pointed out that "news-papers, as a whole, are earning less each year despite an-increasing revenue."

"Several great newspapers have closed their doors within the current year . . . this makes imperative adjustments of the rate structure to put the newspaper business on a sound financial basis."

Advertising and circulation prices have had to be raised by many Alberta weeklies recently. Latest paper to boost its price per copy is the Drumheller Mail, which has gone from five to seven cents per copy.

Findings of recent readership surveys in Canada and the U.S. indicates that readership of advertising, on the average, is seven times greater in weeklies than in dailies.

In the daily press as few as one per cent of the readers may read an advertisement, but in weeklies, the percentage of readership is much higher.

For example, a similar General Motors advertisement received attention from 56 per cent of the readers of a weekly paper compared to a rating of only 16 per cent for the same advertisement in a daily which was surveyed.

Church Condemns Horse Betting

TORONTO.—Rev. J. R. Mutchmor, secretary of the United Church board of evangelism, said Saturday that the United Church played a big part in helping to reduce betting in Windsor, Ont., on horse races and that there was reason to hope for good results in Montreal.

An admonition against dishonesty in such matters as making income tax returns was contained in a report of the board of evangelism and social service, presented by Dr. Mutchmor.

"It is just as dishonest to steal from Ottawa as from our next-door neighbor," Dr. Mutchmor said.

Three Canadian and three American men prominent in education will tour Alberta centres this fall as guest speakers at 17 conventions of Alberta teachers.

Series has been arranged by the Alberta Teachers' Association.

Among the most famous educationists to attend will be Dr. W. E. Blatz, internationally noted authority on child psychology.

Another faculty member of the Toronto University, Dr. John A. Irving, psychologist, will be present.

The Alberta Teachers' Association sponsors of the convention, have reached across the line for three educationists. Dr. George Selke, University of Montana; Mr. W. Virgil Smith, assistant

Alberta Anglicans Mark Church's 75th Anniversary

On Sunday, October 1, Anglicans from the Saskatchewan boundary to Edson and Jasper, from Athabasca and Barrhead to Hardisty and Consort; Anglicans from all over the Diocese of Edmonton will join with their Lord Bishop and clergy in a great Service of Witness, Thanksgiving, and Dedication, in the Sales Pavilion at Edmonton's Exhibition grounds at 3:30 in the afternoon.

Massed choirs from the churches of the diocese under the direction of Mr. Vernon Barford, choir master of All-Saints' Cathedral, will lead the singing of well-known hymns and anthems. The Very Reverend George R. Calvert, Dean of British Columbia will be the special preacher.

The 75th anniversary of the Church of England in the Edmonton district is another milestone in the Christian Life of our great Province, commemorating the arrival of the Reverend William Newton at the Hudson's Bay post on September 28, 1875, where for 16 years he was the only Priest of the Anglican Communion. His work extended to Red Deer on the south, eastward to the Saddle Lake Reserve and for 50 miles west along the Survey Line of the Canadian Pacific.

From this outstanding missionary effort on the part of one Man of God the great Communion has grown with a great Nation. Bishop

Barfoot writing in the Edmonton Churchman, the official organ of the Diocese, says "This is a call to all my people to come together in unprecedented numbers to give thanks to God who has so wonderfully supported us; to honor our founders, and benefactors, clergy and people who have by their loyalty brought the Church to this day of opportunity."

DELICATE TANKS

TORONTO, Ont.—Heard at the old Toronto armouries, as small boys harmlessly played on a row of gigantic tanks: "Get off those tanks!" roared a spike-moustached sergeant.

"Why should they?" demanded a bystander. "They might break them!" said the sergeant.

Treasure Trail Aired Again On Edmonton CFRN

Treasure Trail is back again on Alberta's airwaves, paved with laughs, slap-stick stunts and prizes galore for both the studio audience, and radio listeners.

Set-up is the same this year as it has been ever since the show hit the air back in the late thirties. Emcee Cy Strange and Wally Crouter toss the questions at contestants and Jack Dennett handles the announcing duties.

It's heard over Edmonton's CFRN every Friday evening at 6:30.

Mrs. Wonsmos Dies, Was District Pioneer

Another of the district's old timers has passed away in the person of Mrs. Wonsmos of Westward Ho, on Tuesday 19. Rev. Anderson officiated at the funeral service held in Old's Funeral Home and also at the interment in Crossfield cemetery where her husband was laid to rest many years ago. There are many family connections in our district, among them, Mrs. Ronneberg and Mrs. Ed Donald who are daughters of the deceased. Our deep sympathy is extended to all who are left to mourn her loss.

Football Players Feted At Crossfield

CROSSFIELD. — On Sunday, 24 Ruby and Raymond Lee together with their parents of the Home Cafe entertained the following celebrities of Stampeder football fame: Sugar-foot Anderson, Woody Strode, Gordon Brown and wife, Johnnie Aguirre and wife and the latter's mother, Mrs. Fenton. They were all treated to a wonderful Chinese dinner of which Mable and Charlie are famous.

Madden Man Goes Home To Scotland

MADDEN. — Mr. Durno, who has made his home for the past two years with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Leask, sailed on Friday, September 22 on the Empress of Scotland to resume living in 'Bonnie Scotland'.

Mr. E. J. Stafford was called to Edmonton to the home of his father who is seriously ill.

Threshing and combining are nearing an end with fairly satisfactory grades of grain. The crop in most parts in the west country are heavy.

Bride Honored At Crossfield Shower

CROSSFIELD. — Honoring one of Crossfield's recent brides, Mrs. Ross Bills was the recipient of a lovely miscellaneous shower held in the United Church parlor on Friday, September 23. Convenors were Nell Wigle and Betty Stevenson, ably assisted by other members of the Young Matron's Sewing Circle and various friends. Gay pink and white streamers and pink wedding bells hung attractively over the bride's chair and baskets of gifts were repeatedly wheeled in by little Joyce Harris. Assisting the bride were her sister Judith and Miss Laura Liddell. In a very nice little 'thank you,' Bonita expressed her pleasure to those assembled who had honored her with gifts and well-wishes adding a special thanks to the convenors and helpers who made her shower possible. A charming bouquet of asters, tall pastel tapers and beautiful silver service made the tea table an attractive picture. Presiding at the tea urns were the mothers of the bride and groom and a dainty lunch was served to all the guests.

Pioneers Return To Crossfield

CROSSFIELD. — Mrs. McAnally and Mrs. Pete Smith were agreeably surprised when they received a visit on Saturday last two of our old timers in the persons of Russel James, nephew and sister Fannie (Mrs. Charlie Featherston) neice, who are both well known here. Also travelling with them was Fanny's twin, Mrs. Morgan, Russel's wife, daughter, two grand daughters and mother-in-law. Russel was not too well as he had recently spent two months in the hospital.
